Dispatches From The Dark Side On Torture And The Death Of Justice:

Dispatches from the Dark Side Gareth Peirce, 2012-04-10 In this set of devastating essays Gareth Peirce analyzes the corruption of legal principles and practices in both the US and the UK that has accompanied the War on Terror Exploring the few cases of torture that have come to light such as those of Guantnamo detainees Shafiq Rasul and Binyam Mohamed Peirce argues that they are evidence of a deeply entrenched culture of impunity among those investigating presumed radicals among British Muslim nationals and residents who constitute the new suspect community in the UK Peirce shows that the British government has colluded in a whole range of extrajudicial activities rendition internment without trial torture and has gone to extraordinary lengths to conceal its actions Its devices for maintaining secrecy are probably more deep rooted than those of any other comparable democracy If the government continues along this path Peirce argues it will destroy the moral and legal fabric it claims to be protecting

Borderline Justice Frances Webber, 2012-10-05 Borderline Justice describes the exclusionary policies inhumane decisions and obstacles to justice for refugees and migrants in the British legal system Frances Webber a long standing legal practitioner reveals how the law has been mis applied to migrants refugees and other unpopular minorities This book records some of the key legal struggles of the past thirty years which have sought to preserve values of universality in human rights and the importance of continuing to fight for those values inside and outside the courtroom The themes and analysis cross boundaries of law politics sociology criminology refugee studies and terrorism studies appealing to the radical tradition in all these disciplines

Migrants and the Courts Mr Geoffrey Care, 2013-12-28 Written in a lively and engaging style from the perspective of a leading immigration judge this book examines how states resolve disputes with migrants The chapters reflect on changes in the laws and rules of migration on an international and regional basis and the impact on the parties administration public and judiciary The book is a critical assessment of how the migration tribunal system has evolved over the last century the lessons which have been learnt and those which have not It includes additional comparative contributions by authors on international jurisdictions and is a valuable overview of the evolution and future of the immigration tribunal system which will be of interest to those involved in human rights migration transnational and international law

The Media and Human Rights Ekaterina Balabanova, 2014-09-25 In recent years there has been an explosion in the usage and visibility of the language of human rights but what does this mean for the role of the media For evolving ideas about human rights And for the prospect of shared cosmopolitan values Ekaterina Balabanova argues that in order to answer these questions there needs to be a deconstruction of monolithic ways of thinking about the media and human rights incorporating the spectrum of political arguments and worldviews that underpin both Ten case studies are presented which illustrate many of the problems and challenges associated with the relationship between the media and human rights The examples range from cases of humanitarian intervention to analysis of global human rights campaigning on refugee issues from immigration and asylum to genocide freedom of speech and torture Anchored in an appreciation of the political conflicts and compromises at the heart of international human rights agreements The Media and Human Rights is an invaluable resource for students studying media and human rights international politics security studies and political communication

Rumpole and His Rivals Peter Robson, 2025-02-15 Rumpole and His Rivals examines comic legal fiction and the role it plays in the public's understanding of the legal system The work focuses on the writings of eight lawyer authors over the past century and traces the different approaches taken in this form of comedic literature Over sixty comic legal fiction books have been published in Britain between 1924 and 2024 with the desire of their authors not only to entertain but to inform educate and create a valuable resource for anyone seeking to understand how and why the rule of law and legal profession have garnered the current reputation and level of confidence which they have

State Terrorism and Human Rights Gillian Duncan, 2013 This book aims to improve understanding of the broad trends in the utilisation of political violence by examining the use of state terror in world politics The ending of the Cold War and the overthrow of communism in Eastern Europe led many to assume that this presaged the demise of the one party terror regime and acceptance of Western concepts of democracy freedom and human rights throughout the international system But of course this did not end state terror The totalitarian one party state still exists in North Korea and China and there are numerous military regimes and other forms of dictatorship where the use of terror techniques for internal control is routine The late Professor Paul Wilkinson conceived and began this project with the intention of analysing the major types of international response to state terror as well as their outcomes and their wider implications for the future of international relations In keeping with this original premise the contributors explore the history of terrorism as well as reflecting on the need for international cooperation based on the protection of civilians and a consistent approach to intervention in conflict situations This book will be of much interest to students of terrorism studies political violence human rights genocide and IR in general

Dispatches from the Dark Side Gareth Peirce, 2012-04-10 In this set of devastating essays Gareth Peirce analyzes the corruption of legal principles and practices in both the US and the UK that has accompanied the War on Terror Exploring the few cases of torture that have come to light such as those of Guantamo detainees Shafiq Rasul and Binyam Mohamed Peirce argues that they are evidence of a deeply entrenched culture of impunity among those investigating presumed radicals among British Muslim nationals and residents who constitute the new suspect community in the UK Peirce shows that the British government has colluded in a whole range of extrajudicial activities rendition internment without trial torture and has gone to extraordinary lengths to conceal its actions Its devices for maintaining secrecy are probably more deep rooted than those of any other comparable democracy If the government continues along this path Peirce argues it will destroy the moral and legal fabric it claims to be protecting

Get a Life Vivienne Westwood, 2016-10-13 Vivienne Westwood began Get A Life her online diary in 2010 with an impassioned post about Native American activist Leonard Peltier Since then she has written two or three entries each month discussing her life in fashion and her involvement with art politics and the environment

Reading Vivienne's thoughts in her own words is as fascinating and provocative as you would expect from Britain's punk dame a woman who always says exactly what she believes And what a life One week you might find Vivienne up the Amazon highlighting tribal communities struggles to maintain the rainforest another might see her visiting Julian Assange in the Ecuadorian Embassy or driving up to David Cameron's house in the Cotswolds in a full on tank Then again Vivienne might be hanging out with her friend Pamela Anderson or in India for Naomi Campbell's birthday party or watching Black Sabbath in Hyde Park with Sharon Osbourne The beauty of Vivienne Westwood's diary is that it is so fresh and unpredictable In book form generously illustrated with her own selection of images it is irresistible     Screens of Terror Phil Hammond, 2011 The essays in this collection first came together at a conference held at London South Bank University's Centre for Media and Culture Research in September 2010 on representations of the war on terror in film and television     The Literary Review ,2012     Human Rights Internet Newsletter Human Rights Internet, 1979     The Publishers Weekly ,2000     Manufacturers' Record ,1918     Quarterly Bulletin Historical Society of Northwestern Ohio, 1929     Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper John Albert Sleicher, 1880     Argonaut ,1900     New Statesman Society ,1988-11     The Guardian Index ,2003     Africa Blaine Harden, 1992 The powerful and the powerless are here in dramatic narratives that explain a land swept up in change lurching between an unworkable Western present and a collapsing African past By focusing on individuals Blaine Harden uncovers an Africa that endures beyond the sum of its statistics     Diary of World Events, Being a Chronological Record of the Second World War Photographically Reproduced from the American and Foreign Newspaper Dispatches as Reported Day by Day John Appleton Haven Hopkins, 1942
