Resnick,Johan Swinnen,2023-09-21 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC 4 0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The current structure of the global food system is increasingly recognized as unsustainable In addition to the environmental impacts of agricultural production unequal patterns of food access and availability are contributing to non communicable diseases in middle and high income countries and inadequate caloric intake and dietary diversity among the world s poorest To this end there have been a growing number of academic and policy initiatives aimed at advancing food system transformation including the 2021 UN Food Systems Summit the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and several UN Climate conferences Yet the policy pathways for achieving a transformed food system are highly contested and the enabling conditions for implementation are frequently absent Furthermore a broad range of polarizing factors affect decisions over the food system at domestic and international levels from debates over values and mis information to concerns over food self sufficiency corporate influence and human rights This volume explicitly analyses the political economy dynamics of food system transformation with contributors who span several disciplines including economics ecology geography nutrition political science and public policy The chapters collectively address the range of interests institutions and power in the food system the diversity of coalitions that form around food policy issues and the tactics they employ the ways in which policies can be designed and sequenced to overcome opposition to reform and processes of policy adaptation and learning Drawing on original surveys interviews empirical modelling and case studies from China the European Union Germany Mexico South Asia sub Saharan Africa and the United States the book touches on issues as wide ranging as repurposing agricultural subsidies agricultural trade biotechnology innovations red meat consumption sugar sweetened beverage taxes and much more

Historical Dictionary of the World Bank Sarah Tenney,Anne C. Salda,2013-10-30 When it was founded back in 1944 no one could possibly have foreseen how the World Bank known more formally as the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development IBRD would flourish Today with 188 members it is by far the largest lender for projects in agriculture health infrastructure and many other fields in developing countries around the world with a budget of billions of dollars and a staff of more than 9 000 and its advice is usually heeded by both the developing countries which borrow from it and the advanced ones which contribute This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the World Bank shows the substantial progress the Bank has made this mainly through the dictionary section with concise entries on its component institutions related organizations its achievements in various fields some of the major projects and member countries and its various presidents The introduction explains how the Bank works while the chronology traces the major events over nearly 70 years Meanwhile the list of acronyms reminds us just who the main players are And the bibliography directs readers to useful internal documentation and outside studies
