Native Voices Richard A. Grounds, George E. Tinker, David Eugene Wilkins, 2003 Native peoples of North America still face an uncertain future due to their unstable political legal and economic positions Views of their predicament continue to be dominated by non Indian writers In response a dozen Native American writers here reclaim their rightful role as influential voices in debates about Native communities These scholars examine crucial issues of politics law and religion in the context of ongoing Native American resistance to the dominant culture They particularly show how the writings of Vine Deloria Jr have shaped and challenged American Indian scholarship in these areas since 1960s They provide key insights into Deloria s thought while introducing some critical issues confronting Native nations Collectively these essays take up four important themes indigenous societies as the embodiment of cultures of resistance legal resistance to western oppression against indigenous nations contemporary Native religious practices and Native intellectual challenges to academia Essays address indigenous perspectives on topics usually treated by non Indians such as role of women in Indian society the importance of sacred sites to American Indian religious identity and relationship of native language to indigenous autonomy A closing essay by Deloria in vintage form reminds Native Americans of their responsibilities and obligations to one another and to past and future generations This book argues for renewed cultivation of a Native American Studies that is more Indian centered Public Health in the Context of Life-Limiting Illnesses: Patient-Centered Care in Advanced and Life-Limiting Illnesses Mevhibe Hocaoglu, Richard John Siegert, Rebecca Jarden, Margaret Sandham, Irene Higginson, 2024-08-01 It is estimated that at least 60% of persons dying have a prolonged advanced illness The need for palliative and end of life care will increase due to the rapidly aging world population and the increase of multiple long term conditions For these reasons palliative care is an integral part of public health and public health strategies Palliative care as holistic person centered care and has played a critical role in the recent public health emergency of the COVID 19 pandemic There is a close association between public health health promotion and palliative care and this research topic will highlight this association Through a series of multi disciplinary articles we will explore public health in the context of life limiting illnesses contributing to shaping person centered care including palliative end of life and rehabilitation This research topic will discuss advanced and life limiting illness as a public health challenge and explore the role of palliative and end of life care including rehabilitation in shaping person centered care Research on the Roles and Contributions of Indigenous Women in Sustainable Forest Management in Mekong Countries/Asia Jacqueline K. Cariño, 2013 Public Policy and Aboriginal Peoples, 1965-1992 Katherine A. Graham, Canada. Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples, 1993 This book explores the foundations and characteristics of public policy discourse on Aboriginal affairs in Canada between publication of the two volumes of H B Hawthorn s Survey of the Contemporary Indians of Canada the Hawthorn report in 1966 and 1967 and establishment of the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples in 1991 Its primary sources are 222 documents prepared by Aboriginal and non Aboriginal organizations and governments over this period Our focus in analyzing these documents was to trace the evolution of policy discussions and debates in four key areas lands and resources governance criminal justice and education The analysis builds on our conceptualization of public policy discourse as involving three basic questions who was involved in policy discussions how did policy discussions occur and what was said about key issues in the domain of Aboriginal affairs In dealing with these questions we look at the various and sometimes competing public policy paradigms embraced by Aboriginal and non Aboriginal participants in the discussions Our analysis also builds on our approach to historical documents namely that it is important to examine what one can learn from the past as well as to attempt to understand the past in the context of dominant ideas and events of the period itself Executive summary p xi Convention Internationale Sur L'élimination de Toutes Les Formes de Discrimination Raciale, Rapport Du Canada ,1997 House of Commons Debates, Official Report Canada.
