Garvaghy A Community Under Siege:

Garvaghy Jim McVeigh,1999 What is it like to live in the Garvaghy area not knowing where the violence will come from next or when it will strike What do you do when soldiers prevent you from walking to church How do you deal with colleagues at work who refuse to talk to you Or what do you say to sick and frightened children when you can't afford to send them out of the area Here the people of Garvaghy provide extracts from their diaries and open their photo albums to reveal stories of fear and anxiety of hope and loss and of courage and community organisation Conflict at the Interface Bert Preiss,2020-02-18 More than two decades after the Northern Ireland peace agreement conflict still flares between deprived Protestant Unionist Loyalist and Catholic Nationalist Republican working class interface communities who remain divided by numerous peace walls In light of Brexit the Irish border issue and the power sharing impasse progress in local peacebuilding has stalled This might even jeopardise the overall peace process Within this context this book explores largely empirically the nature and causes of conflict at the interface An attempt is also made to provide an outlook on peace in Northern Ireland and to highlight potential lessons for other conflict ridden divided societies Peace At Last? Jörg Neuheiser,Stefan Wolff,2004-01-01 Spanning more than thirty years and costing over 3000 lives the conflict in Northern Ireland has been one of the most protracted ethnic conflicts in Western Europe After several failed attempts to resolve the fundamental differences over national belonging between the two communities in Northern Ireland the Good Friday Agreement of 1998 seemed to offer the long awaited chance of sustainable peace and reconciliation By looking at the various dimensions and dynamics of post conflict peace building in the political system the economy and society of this deeply divided society the contributors to this volume offer a comprehensive analysis of Northern Irish politics and society in the wake of the Good Friday Agreement and conclude that this is probably the best chance for a stable and long term peace that Northern Ireland has had but that the difficulties that still lie ahead must not be underestimated The Legacy of the Good Friday Agreement Charles I. Armstrong,David Herbert,Jan Erik Mustad,2018-09-03 This book provides a multidisciplinary collection of essays that seek to explore the deeply problematic legacy of post Agreement Northern Ireland Thus the authors of this book look at a number of issues that continue to stymie the development of a robust and sustainable peacebuilding project including segregation contested parades and flags ethnic party mobilization and memorialization Towards addressing these contemporary issues authors are drawn from a range of disciplines including politics history literature drama cultural studies sociology and social psychology Political Ideology in Ireland Olivier Coquelin,Patrick Galliou,Thierry Robin,2020-10-27 First delivered as part of an international conference held at Brest University in November 2007 under the aegis of the Centre de Recherche Bretonne et Celtique CRBC this collection of essays essentially aims at interrogating history in order to better understand the political and ideological complexity of early XXIst century Ireland This complexity reflects in many respects Ireland's uniqueness among the Western European nations Some of the multiple persuasions within the gamut of Irish political ideology from the Enlightenment to the present are thus explored from diverse angles of approach dialectical taxonomic theoretical practical individual collective and through a diverse range of disciplines human sciences political science social sciences literature philosophy and art history and themes from Jonathan Swift's rhetorical complexity to the evolution of Irish republicanism after 9/11 including the reassessment of Daniel O'Connell's political ideology Owenism in Ireland Oscar Wilde's socialistic ideology the ideological development of the Republican and Loyalist prisoners This unique collection of essays far from being a static historiographical description provides food for thought and sheds light on the fascinating ambivalent dynamics lying at the heart of the building process of a modern nation resulting from the aggregate of individual will collective ideals and Zeitgeist The impressive variety of issues raised by authors of diverse origins United States Ireland Britain France including leading experts in the above mentioned areas Richard English Robert Mahony Jonathan Tonge Kieran Allen John Sloan Christopher Murray Vincent Geoghegan therefore widely contributes to the fact that the present book will be intellectually stimulating and enlightening at least as an introduction for all the students and scholars of Irish studies and other related disciplines

Ireland and the Great War Adrian Gregory, Senia Paseta, 2002-11-23 This volume brings together new research whilst re-evaluating older assumptions about the immediate and continuing impact of World War I on Ireland It explores some lesser known aspects of Ireland's war years as well as including studies of more traditional areas Individual articles cover military social cultural political and economic aspects of the Great War as well as reflecting on continuity and change within Irish historiography In doing so they analyze how the experience and memory of the War have contributed to identity formation and the legitimization of political violence

Making Peace with the Past? Graham Dawson, 2007 This book explores the psychic cultural and political ramifications of memory within the Irish troubles It investigates the traumatic impact of the violence perpetrated since 1969 the antagonistic cultural narratives of memory fashioned and mobilized in this context within public and private arenas and the conflicts paradoxes and contradictions involved in coming to terms with the past both before and during the Irish peace process initiated in 1993/94 It traces the formation from below of competing public narratives one concerned with the ethnic cleansing of Protestants by the Irish Republican Army the other with British state violence on Bloody Sunday and analyses their subjective roots in specific experiences of fear and loss their role in ideological struggle and their complicated relation to private familial and individual remembering

The Street as Stage Matthias Reiss, 2007 This volume examines the evolution of the protest march and its subsequent adaptation and use by different groups such as nationalists the labour movements suffragettes Communists fascists and peace and civil rights activists in Europe and the United States

The Irish American Post Magazine, 1996

Out of Time Laurence McKeown, 2001

Changing Shades of Orange and Green John Coakley, 2002 Change has been especially marked in the constitutional nationalist tradition within Northern Ireland which is examined from different perspectives by Alban Maginness and Jennifer Todd It has been even more pronounced in the republican tradition however which is discussed from the standpoints of politician and academic commentator by Mitchel McLaughlin and Paul Arthur Two strands of unionism are analysed using the same formula Thus Dermot Nesbit and Richard English focus on the complex and fascinating pattern of change within Ulster unionism Then the even more remarkable shift in direction within militant loyalism is assessed by one of its main architects David Ervine and by academic analyst James McAuley Finally Desmond O Malley and Tom Garvin examine the pattern of change in the south

Reinventing Ireland Peadar Kirby, Luke Gibbons, Michael Cronin, 2002 Shows how transnational corporations use lobby groups to shape EU policy New updated edition Women's Stories from the North of Ireland Silvia Calamati, 2002 A collection of twenty one interviews with women who have suffered through the recent conflict in Northern Ireland this is a book filled with great sadness and loss as well as struggle and survival Here women whose husbands and relatives have been killed whose children have been mutilated who have spent years in prison and who have been blinded by plastic bullets talk about the financial difficulties and personal effects of violence on their lives and those of their families Endangered Peoples of Europe Jean Forward, 2001-02-28 Profiles more than 12 endangered peoples ranging from the Scottish Highlanders the Basques in Spain the former Yugoslavians to the Cypriots The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2002

Nationalism and Multiculturalism Andrew Finlay, 2004 This book explores the theories of cultural identity and pluralism that support the peace process and questions their adequacy both with respect to the ethno national conflict they were originally developed to comprehend and to the difficulties Ireland now faces in coming to terms with immigration and increasing cultural diversity Some of the contributors are more optimistic than others but all share the belief that Ireland's long theoretical and practical engagement with issues related with belonging citizenship cultural difference and conflict are of global significance in a post Cold War world Hidden Truths Trisha Ziff, 1998 In 1972 the Parachute Regiment of the British Army opened fire on a peaceful civil rights march in Derry in the north of Ireland killing thirteen people and wounding many others A watershed event in contemporary Irish history Bloody Sunday challenged the premise that constitutional politics could bring about change resulting in the decision by many Irish nationalists to take up arms This anthology uses analysis interviews personal accounts and images to examine from several different perspectives the personal and political implications generated by Bloody Sunday and its impact on the present Writers include Gerry Adams Elaine Brotherton Joelle Gartner Luke Gibbons Tom Hayden Don Mullan Gilles Peress Peter Pringle and Trisha Ziff Edited by Trisha Ziff Toward Freedom, 1998 Left Curve, 1997
