Evictions Art And Spatial Politics The Graham Foundation Or Mit:

Evictions Rosalyn Deutsche, 1998 An Anarchitectural Body of Work Friederike Schäfer, 2025-05-19 The artist dancer and educator Suzanne Harris 1940-79 was a protagonist of the downtown New York City artists community in the 1970s With her boundary transgressing practice she played a decisive part in avant garde projects such as the Anarchitecture group 112 Greene Street FOOD and the Natural History of the American Dancer Harris furthermore participated in the Heresies editorial collective Nevertheless her own oeuvre fell into abeyance Friederike Schäfer reconstructs Harris's dispersed postminimalist body of work which broke the mold of art categories art practices art spaces and the common notion of space The author draws on post Marxist feminist theory to trace how Harris transcended both sculpture and dance to create site specific ephemeral installations Second revised edition Recipient of the Terra Foundation for American Art International Publication Grant 2021 Look Inside Public Art and the Fragility of Democracy Fred Evans, 2018-11-20 Public space is political space When a work of public art is put up or taken down it is an inherently political statement and the work's aesthetics are inextricably entwined with its political valences Democracy's openness allows public art to explore its values critically and to suggest new ones However it also facilitates artworks that can surreptitiously or fortuitously undermine democratic values Today as bigotry and authoritarianism are on the rise and democratic movements seek to combat them as Confederate monuments fall and sculptures celebrating diversity rise the struggle over the values enshrined in the public arena has taken on a new urgency In this book Fred Evans develops philosophical and political criteria for assessing how public art can respond to the fragility of democracy He calls for considering such artworks as acts of citizenship pointing to their capacity to resist autocratic tendencies and reveal new dimensions of democratic society Through close considerations of Chicago's Millennium Park and New York's National September 11 Memorial Evans shows how a wide range of artworks participate in democratic dialogues A nuanced consideration of contemporary art aesthetics and political theory this book is a timely and rigorous elucidation of how thoughtful public art can contribute to the flourishing of a democratic way of life

DIY on the Lower East Side Andrew Strombeck, 2020-08-01 The severe financial austerity imposed on New York City during the 1975 fiscal crisis resulted in a city falling apart Broken windows crumbling walls and piles of bricks were everywhere While for many this physical decay was a sign that the postwar welfare state had failed for others it represented a site of risky opportunity that could stimulate novel forms of creativity and community In this book Andrew Strombeck explores the legacy of this crisis for the city's literature and art focusing on one neighborhood where changes were acutely felt the Lower East Side In what became a paradigmatic example of gentrification the Lower East Side's population shifted from working class people to Wall Street traders and ad agents This transformation occurred in part because of high profile local artists such as Jean Michel Basquiat Keith Haring Jeff Koons and Kiki Smith but Strombeck argues that neighborhood writers also played a role Drawing on archival research and original author interviews he examines the innovative work of

Kathy Acker David Wojnarowicz Miguel Pi ero Sylv re Lotringer Lynne Tillman and others and concludes that these writers still have much to teach us about changes in the nature of work and the emergence of a do it yourself ethos DIY on the Lower East Side shows how place and politics shaped literature and how New York City policies adopted at the time continue to shape our world

Fairchild Ruggles, 2007

Sites Unseen challenges conventions for viewing and interpreting the landscape using visual theory to move beyond traditional practices of describing and classifying objects to explore notions of audience and context. While other fields such as art history and geography have engaged poststructuralist theory to consider vision and representation, the application of such inquiry to the natural or built environment has lagged behind. This book, by treating landscape as a spatial psychological and sensory encounter, aims to bridge this gap, opening a new dialogue for discussing the landscape outside the boundaries of current art criticism and theory. As the contributors reveal, the landscape is a widely adaptable medium that can be employed literally or metaphorically to convey personal or institutional ideologies. Walls, gates, churchyards, and arches become framing devices for a staged aesthetic experience or to suit a sociopolitical agenda. The optic stimulation of signs, symbols, bodies, and objects combines with physical acts of climbing and walking and sensory acts of touching, smelling, and hearing to evoke an overall vision of landscape. Sites Unseen considers a variety of different perspectives, including ancient Roman visions of landscape, the framing techniques of a Moghul palace, and a contemporary case study of Christo's The Gates as examples of human attempts to shape our sensory, cognitive, and emotional experiences in the landscape.
