Academic Presenting and Presentations Averil Bolster, Peter Levrai, 2016-08-01. This Teacher's Book is the companion to Academic Presenting and Presentations ISBN 978 3 7347 8367 8, a training course designed to help students cultivate academic presentation skills and deal with the various presentation tasks they may be required to fulfil during the course of their university studies. The material is suitable for a global audience and can be used in a wide range of contexts in the fields of Communication Skills, English Language Teaching and English for Academic Purposes. In addition to providing valuable notes on each unit, the Teacher's Book contains key information on the underlying principles, concept and structure of the course and sets out the rationale behind its design. Teachers and through them their students can benefit from the depth of the insights presented here, making the classroom experience a rewarding and enjoyable one. Academic presentations can be particularly challenging for non native English speakers and consequently the print material and the accompanying video recordings dovetail neatly to provide linguistic support and guidance as well as enhancing presentation skills and providing a forum for practice, feedback and ongoing improvement. However, broader topics of interest appropriate to a study oriented context such as research and plagiarism are also dealt with in a unique balance of content that goes beyond the treatment of discrete language points and emphasises high level task achievement whilst at the same time focusing attention on the specific requirements of addressing an audience in an academic environment Giving

Challenging Academic Presentations Milka Hadjikotaeva, 2017-06-19 Giving academic presentations is beyond any doubt one of the challenges most university students and teachers have to cope with However when these presentations are delivered in a foreign language the challenge is even greater If according to CEFR Council of Europe 2011 the level of fluency of the students trained to speak before an audience is B1 B2 the challenge might seem just too great to cope with If we consider the main principles of successful speakers to be confidence purpose and preparation then we can better comprehend the importance of communication apprehension Moreover we should also bear in mind that there are culturally specific influences on the way presentations are structured and that it is important to view a presentation as a process rather than a product because it is in the process of preparation itself that students become successful presenters in a foreign language
