Gay Tv And Straight America Author Ron Becker Feb 2006:

Ryan Murphy's Queer America Brenda R. Weber, David Greven, 2022-05-18 Ryan Murphy is a self described gay boy from Indiana who has grown up to forge a media empire With an extraordinary list of credits and successful television shows movies and documentaries to his name Murphy can now boast one of the broadest and most successful careers in Hollywood Serving as writer producer and director his creative output includes limited run dramas such as Feud Ratched and Halston procedural dramas such as 9 1 1 and 9 1 1 Lonestar anthology series such as American Crime Story American Horror Story and American Horror Stories sit coms such as The New Normal and long running serial narratives such as Glee Nip Tuck and Pose Each of these is infused in different ways with a distinctive form of queer energy and erotics animating their narratives with both campy excess and poignant longing and giving new meaning to the American story This collection takes up Murphy as auteur and showrunner considering the gendered and sexual politics of Murphy s wide body of work Using an intersectional framework throughout an impressive list of well known and emerging scholars engages with Murphy s diverse output while also making the case for Murphy s version of a queer sensibility a revised notion of queer time cultural memory and the contributions his own production company makes to a politics of LGBTQ representation and evolving gender identities This book is suitable for students of Gender and Media LGBTQ Studies Media Studies and Communication Studies

The Generic Closet Alfred L. Martin, Jr., 2021-04-06 Even after a rise in gay and Black representation and production on TV in the 1990s the sitcom became a generic closet restricting Black gay characters with narrative tropes Drawing from 20 interviews with credited episode writers key show runners and Black gay men The Generic Closet situates Black cast sitcoms as a unique genre that uses Black gay characters in service of the series heterosexual main cast Alfred L Martin Jr argues that the Black community is considered to be antigay due to misrepresentation by shows that aired during the family viewing hour and that were written for the imagined traditional Black family Martin considers audience reception industrial production practices and authorship to unpack the claim that Black gay characters are written into Black cast sitcoms such as Moesha Good News and Let s Stay Together in order to closet Black gayness By exploring how systems of power produce ideologies about Black gayness The Generic Closet deconstructs the concept of a monolithic Black audience and investigates whether this generic closet still exists

Teaching Film Lucy Fischer, Patrice Petro, 2012-07-27 Film studies has been a part of higher education curricula in the United States almost since the development of the medium Although the study of film is dispersed across a range of academic departments programs and scholarly organizations film studies has come to be recognized as a field in its own right In an era when teaching and scholarship are increasingly interdisciplinary film studies continues to expand and thrive attracting new scholars and fresh ideas direction and research Given the dynamism of the field experienced and beginning instructors alike need resources for bringing the study of film into the classroom This volume will help instructors conceptualize contemporary film studies in pedagogical terms The first part of the volume features essays on theory and on representation including gender race and sexuality Contributors then examine the geographies of cinema and offer practical suggestions for structuring courses on national regional and transnational film Several essays focus on interdisciplinary approaches while others describe courses designed around genre film noir the musical mode animation documentary avant garde film or the formal elements of film such as sound music and mise en scene The volume closes with a section on film and media in the digital age in which contributors discuss the opportunities and challenges presented by access to resources media convergence and technological developments in the field

The Comedy Studies Reader Nick Marx, Matt Sienkiewicz, 2018-08-01 From classical Hollywood film comedies to sitcoms recent political satire and the developing world of online comedy culture comedy has been a mainstay of the American media landscape for decades Recognizing that scholars and students need an authoritative collection of comedy studies that gathers both foundational and cutting edge work Nick Marx and Matt Sienkiewicz have assembled The Comedy Studies Reader This anthology brings together classic articles more recent works and original essays that consider a variety of themes and approaches for studying comedic media the carnivalesque comedy mechanics and absurdity psychoanalysis irony genre race and ethnicity gender and sexuality and nation and globalization The authors range from iconic theorists such as Mikhail Bakhtin Sigmund Freud and Linda Hutcheon to the leading senior and emerging scholars of today As a whole the volume traces two parallel trends in the evolution of the field first comedy's development into myriad subgenres formats and discourses a tendency that has led many popular commentators to characterize the present as a comedy zeitgeist and second comedy studies new focus on the ways in which comedy increasingly circulates in serious discursive realms including politics economics race gender and cultural power

Her Stories Elana Levine, 2020-03-06 Since the debut of These Are My Children in 1949 the daytime television soap opera has been foundational to the history of the medium as an economic creative technological social and cultural institution In Her Stories Elana Levine draws on archival research and her experience as a longtime soap fan to provide an in depth history of the daytime television soap opera as a uniquely gendered cultural form and a central force in the economic and social influence of network television Closely observing the production promotion reception and narrative strategies of the soaps Levine examines two intersecting developments the role soap operas have played in shaping cultural understandings of gender and the rise and fall of broadcast network television as a culture industry In so doing she foregrounds how soap operas have revealed changing conceptions of gender and femininity as imagined by and reflected on the television screen

Rolling Alfred L. Martin, Jr., 2024-04-02 Since slavery African and African American humor has baffled intrigued angered and entertained the masses Rolling centers Blackness in comedy especially on television and observing that it is often relegated to biopics slave narratives and the comedic But like W E B DuBois's ideas about double consciousness and Racquel Gates's extension of his theories we know that Blackness resonates for Black viewers in ways often entirely different than for white viewers Contributors to this volume cover a range of cases representing African American humor across film television digital media and stand up as Black comic personas try to work within outside and around culture tilling for content Essays engage with the complex industrial interplay of Blackness white audiences and comedy satire and humor on media platforms and the production of Blackness within comedy through personal stories and interviews of Black production crew and writers for television comedy Rolling illuminates the inner workings of Blackness and comedy in media discourse

Becoming Lesbian Tamara Chaplin, 2024-12-04 A landmark analysis of how a marginalized subculture used modern media to transform public attitudes toward sexual desire In Becoming Lesbian historian Tamara Chaplin argues that the history of female same sex intimacy is central to understanding the struggle to control the public sphere This monumental study draws on undiscovered sources culled from cabaret culture sexology police files radio TV photography the Minitel an early form of internet and private letters as well as over one hundred interviews filmed by the author Becoming Lesbian demonstrates how women of diverse classes and races came to define themselves as lesbian and used public spaces and public media to exert claims on the world around them in ways that made possible new forms of gendered and sexual citizenship Chaplin begins in the sapphic cabarets of interwar Paris These venues she shows exploited female same sex desire for profit while simultaneously launching an incipient queer female counterpublic Refuting claims that World War II destroyed this female world Chaplin reveals instead how prewar sapphic subcultures flourished in the postwar period laying crucial groundwork for the politicization of lesbian identity into the twenty first century Becoming Lesbian is filled with colorful vignettes about female cabaret owners singers TV personalities writers and activists all brought to life to make larger points about rights belonging and citizenship As a history of lesbianism this book represents a major contribution to modern French history queer studies and genealogies of the media and its publics
