Gay Cyborg Experiments Sci Fi Romance:

Love and Sex with Robots Adrian David Cheok, David Levy, 2018-03-03 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Third International Conference on Love and Sex with Robots LSR 2017 held in December 2017 in London UK The 12 revised papers presented together with 2 keynotes were carefully reviewed and selected from a total of 83 submissions One of the biggest challenges of the Love and Sex with Robots conference is to engage a wider scientific community in the discussions of the multifaceted topic which has only recently established itself as an academic research topic within but not limited to the disciplines of artificial intelligence human computer interaction robotics biomedical science and robot ethics etc

The Palgrave Handbook of Posthumanism in Film and Television Michael Hauskeller, Curtis D. Carbonell, Thomas D. Philbeck, 2016-01-13 What does popular culture's relationship with cyborgs robots vampires and zombies tell us about being human Insightful scholarly perspectives shine a light on how film and television evince and portray the philosophical roots the social ramifications and the future visions of a posthumanist world

Manhood in Hollywood from Bush to Bush David Greven, 2010-01-01 A struggle between narcissistic and masochistic modes of manhood defined Hollywood masculinity in the period between the presidencies of George H W Bush and George W Bush David Greven's contention is that a profound shift in representation occurred during the early 1990s when Hollywood was transformed by an explosion of films that foregrounded non normative gendered identity and sexualities In the years that have followed popular cinema has either emulated or evaded the representational strategies of this era especially in terms of gender and sexuality One major focus of this study is that in a great deal of the criticism in both the fields of film theory and queer theory masochism has been positively cast as a form of male sexuality that resists the structures of normative power while narcissism has been negatively cast as either a regressive sexuality or the bastion of white male privilege Greven argues that narcissism is a potentially radical mode of male sexuality that can defy normative codes and categories of gender whereas masochism far from being radical has emerged as the default mode of a traditional normative masculinity This study combines approaches from a variety of disciplines psychoanalysis queer theory American studies men's studies and film theory as it offers fresh readings of several important films of the past twenty years including Casualties of War The Silence of the Lambs Fight Club The Passion of the Christ Auto Focus and Brokeback Mountain

The Renaissance Reader Kinitra D. Brooks, Nicholas R. Jones, 2025-12-12 The Renaissance Reader Beyoncé and Black Queer Popular Culture offers a groundbreaking exploration of Beyoncé's acclaimed album Renaissance examining its celebration of Black queer aesthetics through disco house and bounce music Building on the success of The Lemonade Reader this interdisciplinary collection brings together popular culture writers and scholars to analyse the album's profound impact on contemporary culture and artistic expression Through the lens of Black feminist and queer theory contributors examine how Renaissance engages with and reimagines African American musical traditions while centring Black women's experiences and queer aesthetics This timely volume tackles crucial questions about Beyoncé's evolving artistry, celebrity, and cultural impact while exploring how her work intersects with contemporary Black feminist and queer theoretical methodologies. The Renaissance Reader: Beyoncé and Black Queer Popular Culture is an essential text for scholars and students in Black women's studies, queer studies, and popular culture, as well as for fans seeking deeper insight into Beyoncé's artistic vision and cultural significance. Horror and Science Fiction Films

IV Donald C. Willis, 1997-08-07 This fourth title in a unique series that combines reference and analytical qualities in chronicling the horror and science fiction genres. Horror and Science Fiction Films IV brings the earlier three volumes in the series up to date, concentrating on the period from 1984-1994, as well as updating entries from the previous volumes and adding newly discovered titles from 1900-1983. Entries in the main list include credits, cast synopsis, and annotation. The introduction lists 1995 releases in the genres, and 1996 releases through the summer cite the more memorable films in the genres for both the current period and 1900-1984, and serves as an index to key titles in the main list, including long lost titles such as the obscure silent Were Tiger and the 1931 The Phantom. Willis includes many films from around the world that are not found in any other English language film reference work. One appendix provides thumbnail descriptions of problem and peripheral films; another updates entries in the first three books with alternate titles; and a third appendix serves as an index to the approximately 7,000 films listed in the first three volumes in the series, as well as in the current volume, thus bringing the total number of films covered in this series to roughly 11,000 titles. The German Cinema Book Tim Bergfelder, Erica Carter, Deniz Göktürk, Claudia Sandberg, 2020-02-20 This comprehensively revised, updated, and significantly extended edition introduces German film history from its beginnings to the present day, covering key periods and movements, including early and silent cinema, Weimar cinema, Nazi cinema, the New German Cinema, the Berlin School, the cinema of migration, and moving images in the digital era. Contributions by leading international scholars are grouped into sections that focus on genre, stars, authorship, film production, distribution, and exhibition, theory, and politics, including women's and queer cinema, and transnational connections. Spotlight articles within each section offer key case studies, including individual films that illuminate larger histories: Heimat, Downfall, The Lives of Others, The Edge of Heaven, and many more, stars from Ossi Oswalda and Hans Albers to Hanna Schygulla and Nina Hoss; directors including F.W. Murnau, Walter Ruttmann, Wim Wenders, and Helke Sander; and film theorists including Siegfried Kracauer and Béla Balázs. The volume provides a methodological template for the study of a national cinema in a transnational horizon.
