German Culture in the Libraries of Melbourne Susan Radvansky, Leslie Bodi, 1967 Schubert's Poets and the Making of Lieder Susan Youens, 1999-10-28 Lieder began with words with the composer's discovery of a poet and a poetic work but the scholarly study of lieder has tended to bypass those origins Schubert's choice of poets has traditionally come under fire for the preponderance of mediocre talent and yet many of these writers were highly esteemed in their day In her highly acclaimed study Susan Youens has chosen four such poets Gabriele von Baumberg Theodor Körner Johann Mayrhofer and Ernst Schulze in order to re-examine their lives works and Schubert's music to their verse All four poets were vivid inhabitants of a vivid era and their tribulations afford us added insight into the upheavals the manners and mores of their day

chronological range covered by the individual essays is more than two hundred years from the Classical Enlightenment to the early twenty first century Some of the studies encompassed by this volume undertake the analysis of one composer s settings of a particular poet s work albeit with rather more critical rigour Others trace the ways in which a literary text is modified and adapted before and as it develops as one of the principal components of an opera Several share new insights into the complex relationships of individual works with the literary and musical traditions out of which they emerge or which they transform and renew or set such works in the political contexts of their genesis or reception often using a key historical moment a turning point or a snapshot as the starting point for a wide ranging investigation In some cases the words and the music are those of the same composer the relationship here shedding light on the process of composition itself Literary works are often scrutinized for the light they shed on a musician s creative processes but the importance of music to writers as audiences but also as amateur or even semi professional practitioners is no less important as an investigative standpoint
